

Pisac Inn

Pisac Inn is a small and charming hotel ideally located in the historic Plaza de Pisac, in the beautiful Sacred Valley of the Incas, just 45 minutes from the city of Cusco. Pisac is surrounded by stunning mountains and the beautiful Wilkamayu River that runs through the fertile heart of the valley. A pleasant climate, a low altitude and the charm of a small town, in addition to its proximity and easy access to Cusco, Machu Picchu and other places in the sacred Valley, make Pisac an ideal base.

Full of charming details that honor the Quechua tradition, Pisac Inn offers a relaxed atmosphere and warm hospitality that celebrates the continuity and vitality of this ancient living culture. Contemporary and rustic nuances are harmoniously combined giving a feeling of stepping back in time, which makes Pisac Inn something so special..

Upon entering, you will be greeted by the majestic presence of an imposing San Pedro cactus (Huachuma) and you will discover a secret world inside. The 11 rooms surround a charming courtyard full of flowers and butterflies. It is a refuge where you will find tranquility, and when you go out to the sidewalk cafe you will feel the joy of a little Andean village. The famous market is born every morning in the Pisac Square. Enjoy the magical landscape while calmly immersing yourself in the sights, sounds, flavors and arts of the market. From the outside of the restaurant and the balcony on the second floor overlooking the square you can absorb the village life from a quiet distance that will allow you to reflect and take note in a personal way, but at the same time connected to the outside. The living room, where you will find books, magazines, games and a flat-screen TV with satellite, is a comfortable place to read or rest. Every afternoon we serve tea for our guests. The rooms and bathrooms are small but nice and fit your needs without excesses.

Every artistic detail has been designed as part of a continuous process: the hand-painted murals, the Inca stone wall and the general decoration honor the local culture and ancestral values. This intimate and charming atmosphere has a subtle elegance and a style that conjures a sense of eternity.

The ancient charm of the historical building, the artistic style and the warm attention create an atmosphere that make Pisac Inn a hidden treasure.
